Clean Fuels Vehicle Showcase & Happy Hour

Wednesday, February 7

4:30–6:30 PM | Ashton Depot

Join us at the Clean Fuels Vehicle Showcase and Happy Hour event at Fort Worth's iconic Ashton Depot! Located just a short 5-minute walk from Clean Fuels Conference Central, the historic Ashton Depot served as a bustling train station for nearly a century from 1899–1995. Today, the neoclassical terminal has been beautifully restored and now serves as a full-service event venue and the perfect site to host our Clean Fuels Vehicle Showcase and Happy Hour. Don't miss this unique opportunity to check out the latest biodiesel-powered vehicles on display with our OEM and Fleet partners, and be treated to fabulous food, drinks and fun!

Speakers: Venu Gupta, Engine Product Strategy Planner, John Deere Power Systems; Lori Dunn, Chief Operating Officer, Optimus Technologies; Adam Buttgenbach, Director of Fleet Engineering and Sustainability, PepsiCo

Moderator: Jennifer Weaver, OEM Market Development Manager, JenMotion Marketing

BREAKOUT | 4:00–5:15 PM | Fort Worth 1–4

From Sea to Shining Sea: Federal Funding Opportunities

Fostering the success of clean fuels is a national priority. Everyone in the supply chain can benefit from federal funding with some know-how. USDA will discuss the prized Higher Blend Infrastructure Incentive Program and other grant and loan programs. Hear from the Department of Energy on how you may benefit from its low-interest loan program, which is an attractive option for high-dollar projects. You'll also get an overview of other land, air and sea funding opportunities, from rail to planes to ports!

Speakers: Jeff Carpenter, U.S. Department of Agriculture; Jill Hamilton, Sustainable Energy Strategies; Dr. Valerie Sarisky-Reed, U.S. Department of Energy

On the Right Track and Crushing It: The Clean Fuels Journey Accelerates

There's never been a more transformative time for clean fuels, biodiesel, renewable diesel, and sustainable aviation fuel are gaining unprecedented traction across powerhouse markets. As the world goes full speed ahead toward Net Zero, we'll hear from a rail industry leader on why biodiesel may be just the ticket. And just how will the clean fuels industry rise to staggering forecasted demand from the rail industry and other promising markets? We'll take a deep dive into feedstock advancements, including how the U.S. could be "crushing it" on supply!

Speakers: Donnell Rehagen, CEO, Clean Fuels; Angela Caddell, VP Agricultural Products, BNSF Railway; Ken Campbell, President, NA Oils, Biodiesel & Glycols at ADM; Jennifer Ozimkiewicz, Senior VP and Head of Global Corn and Soybean Crop Business, Bayer; John Bullock, Chief Strategy Officer, Darling Ingredients
Moderator: Alan Weber, Senior Economist, M4 Consulting

BREAKOUT | 10:45 AM–12:00 PM | Fort Worth 1–4

Strength in Numbers: State Legislation Driving Clean Fuels Across America

Join us for a dynamic session featuring a diverse panel from the three key U.S. regions! They will share their innovative approaches to legislative efforts promoting biodiesel, renewable diesel, and sustainable aviation fuel. We'll explore the collaborative efforts with the marine industry in Michigan. We'll learn about the Environmental Justice engagements and the crucial work underway to gain support from organizations shaping low-carbon fuel programs in the Northeast. On the West Coast, see how the industry is in the driver's seat for carbon reduction in three prominent states. Don't miss this insightful exploration of cross-industry and cross-country collaboration driving a cleaner, greener future.

Speakers: Hanna Campbell, Michigan Soybean Committee; Antoine Thompson, Greater Washington Region Clean Cities Coalition; Neville Fernandes, Chevron REG

Moderator: Jeff Earl, Clean Fuels

BREAKOUT | 10:45 AM–12:00 PM | Fort Worth 5–8

Chill Out: Winter's Promising Oils, Cash Crops and Carbon Tools

Winter may deliver more than snow sports and hot chocolate, thanks to some remarkable breakthroughs and partnerships. Camelina, and winter oilseeds like brassica carinata, winter canola and a modified variety of pennycress are all budding big time as a potential new source of oil for producers, a third cash crop for farmers, and a carbon-sequestration tool without bringing new land into production. Unlike past feedstock-wannabes, you'll learn how these cool lipids have buy-in from all supply chain points. With demand growing for clean fuels, and the 3-billion-gallon Sustainable Aviation Fuel Grand Challenge in place, we just can't luge!

Speakers: Michelle Starke, CoverCress; Scott Hedderich, Nuseed; Chad Berghoefler, Corteva Agriscience

Moderator: Alan Weber, M4 Consulting

LUNCH | 12:00–1:00 PM | Conference Central
SPONSORED BY MEG CORP

For more than 15 years, MEG Corp has partnered with Midwest soybean organizations to provide renewable fuel education and technical support to increase the availability and use of biodiesel, supporting both the fuel distribution chain and diesel users of all sizes.

Bullish on Biodiesel, Soaring with SAF

A year of overall policy wins, plus aggressive corporate decarbonization efforts has set the table for clean fuels to flourish and at the center sits biodiesel! We'll hear from top biodiesel company leaders on why the future has never looked brighter. Then, please stow your belongings and fasten your seatbelts for a lively discussion on sustainable aviation fuel! Is it ready for takeoff? Join top airline executives and an SAF company as they discuss their commitments to ESG, and what role SAF is sure to play.

Speakers: Kurt Kovarik, VP Federal Affairs, Clean Fuels

Moderator: Doug Whitehead, COO, Clean Fuels

SAF Panel: Jill Blickstein, VP of Sustainability, American Airlines; John Briere, Dir. of Fuel Supply & Trading, Southwest Airlines; Nancy Young, Chief Sustainability Officer, Gevo

Moderator: Veronica Bradley, Dir. of Environmental Science, Clean Fuels

BREAKOUT | 3:30–5:00 PM | Fort Worth 1–4

The Low Score: Lowering Carbon Intensity with Climate-Smart Ag

“Climate-Smart Agriculture” is the new nomenclature for an effort aiming for a hole-in-one for the climate. It’s taking a shot to sustainably increase the productivity of agriculture, enhance climate resilience on the farm and reduce greenhouse gas emissions. This trifecta environmental policy has some real economic muscle but how do we caddy those incentives back to the farmers who are adopting practices to sequester carbon? Could the GHG scoring system already in place for renewable fuels help get this effort up to par?

Speakers: Mac Marshall, United Soybean Board; Paul Scheetz, ADM; Eric Coronel, Field to Market

Moderator: Veronica Bradley, Clean Fuels

BREAKOUT | 3:30–5:00 PM | Fort Worth 5–8

New Policy Priorities for the Clean Fuels Industry

The Clean Fuels federal affairs team will be joined by DC consultants to discuss the outlook for farm bill programs, tax and budget policy, and other priorities remaining in the final year of the 118th Congress and during the run-up to the election.

Now That's Refreshing! Biodiesel, RD and a New Generation in Decarbonization

Did we ever think one of the world’s largest food & beverage companies would someday knock on our door? Of course, we did! Hear it straight from this A-list producer of carbonated beverages, now focused on decarbonization when it comes to climate goals. Top leaders from PepsiCo/Frito-Lay will tell us why in their journey toward Net Zero, biodiesel and renewable diesel are in the driver’s seat. No B100 discussion would be complete without Optimus Technologies, whose current rise is positively effervescent. Plus, with RD demand booming in California, we’ll hear from Darling Ingredients, the “original recycler” as one of the oldest rendering companies in the U.S. This session is sure to pop!

Speakers: Mike Rath, Chair, Clean Fuels; Randall Stuewe, CEO, Darling Ingredients; Tom Verry, Executive Director, Clean Fuels Foundation; Panel: David Allen, VP & Chief Sustainability Officer, PepsiCo; Adam Buttgenbach, Dir. Extreme Carbon Makeover: Clean Fuels and the Next Generation of LCFS Policies

It's hard to believe that California's Low Carbon Fuel Standard turns 13 years old in 2024 – groundbreaking policies grow up so fast! Oregon's Clean Fuels Policy also celebrates its seventh anniversary of implementation, with both policies hailed as wildly successful at reducing net greenhouse gases in transportation fuel. As other states follow their lead into Extreme CI Reduction, all eyes are now on "LCFS 2.0," when states explore new concepts for the next generation of low-carbon fuel policies. What are the challenges and opportunities for clean fuels during what is sure to be another seismic shift in the low-carbon fuel movement?

Mighty Machines: Ships, Trains and Other Off-Road Prospects

Step into the world of colossal machinery as we explore the awe-inspiring power of ships, trains, tractors and other massive off-road vehicles. These feats of engineering are not only remarkable in size and strength but also essential for various industries worldwide. In an era where sustainability and environmental responsibility are paramount, operators of these mighty machines are embracing the challenge of decarbonization. We'll take you behind-the-scenes on efforts to secure OEM approvals and ensure that liquid fuels play a pivotal role in helping these behemoths harness the power they need while cleaning up their environmental impact.

A Stand-Out Standard: Spec Evolutions Clear Path for Biodiesel's Bright Future

ASTM International named the biodiesel specification, D6751, as one of the “Top 10 Most Influential Standards” of all time and we couldn't agree more! There's a promising path forward for biodiesel's role in meeting environmental goals in hard-to-decarbonize vehicles and vessels. Learn the latest on how compelling new biodiesel fuel quality data from top research institutions and a new Low Metals Grade of biodiesel could lead to a bright future for B20. Hear from an expert panel on industry efforts for B100 in current engines and plans for new ASTM specifications for blends up to B100 in new Ultra Low Emissions Diesel Engines, regulated by EPA and CARB, in 2027-2034.

Speakers: Robert McCormick, National Renewable Energy Laboratory; Steve Howell, M4 Consulting; Roger Gault, EMA, Truck & Engine Manufacturers Association; Colin Huwyler, Optimus Technologies

Moderator: Keith Cockerline, United Soybean Board

BREAKOUT | 1:00–1:30 PM | Fort Worth 5–8

Ask the Expert: Working Through 'RINsanity' and Other Economic Challenges

Energy and food prices are notoriously volatile, leading economists to remove them from their core inflation measurements. Standing at the crossroads of these two volatile markets are Renewable Identification Numbers (RINs) the prices

Ask the Expert: Grease is the Word!

Global Used Cooking Oil supplies topped 3.7 billion gallons in 2022. While most fried foods might not be suitable for the Low Carb Diet, they are extremely helpful in the Low CARBON Diet the planet hopes to achieve. Just how much UCO could the biofuels industry have access to by 2030? We'll take a deep-dive into the vat and a recent study to find out.

Connected Energy: Partnerships That Move Us Forward (Plated Breakfast)

As we enter a new era of awakening demand for clean fuels, we see the path to success is rarely traveled alone. We'll explore the pivotal role of partnerships throughout the supply chain and how they help move the clean energy transformation forward. This will include hearing from ASTM - the premier standard setting body in the world - on why the biodiesel standard is one of the most significant in history. Join us for this closing session that starts with a plated breakfast, and see how, just like bacon and eggs, a great partnership can really sizzle!

ABOUT CLEAN FUELS ALLIANCE AMERICA

Mission Statement

Representing biodiesel, renewable diesel and sustainable aviation fuel, Clean Fuels Alliance America will advance the interests of its members by supporting sustainable biodiesel, renewable diesel and sustainable aviation fuel industry growth. Clean Fuels serves as the industry's central coordinating entity for technical, environmental and quality assurance programs and will be the strongest voice for its advocacy, communications and market development.

Vision

Biodiesel, renewable diesel and sustainable aviation fuel will be recognized as mainstream low-carbon fuel options with superior performance and emission characteristics. In on-road, off-road, air transportation, electricity generation and home heating applications, use will exceed 6 billion gallons by 2030, avoiding over 50 million metric tons of CO<sub>2</sub> equivalent greenhouse gas emissions annually. With advancements in feedstock, use will reach 15 billion gallons by 2050.
